

Josh Finch

TT Club

Josh is a Logistics Risk Manager for TT Club's Loss Prevention department. Josh joined TT Club in 2023 having 15 years of experience in the logistics industry in various operational and project management roles. His work focuses on identifying and mitigating operational, security, safety and business continuity risks across logistics facilities, with particular expertise in port and terminal operations. Josh's work in global risk assessment gives him a unique view on a multitude of operations and drives his analysis and research into these issues, presenting his findings to the industry at conferences and committees across the globe.