T&T Marine Salvage, Inc.

Jason Crochet, Marine Firefighting & Training Coordinator

Jason Crochet is the Marine Firefighting & Training Coordinator for T&T Marine Salvage, Inc. in Galveston, TX. In this role, he coordinates all firefighting responses, training, equipment operational readiness & equipment procurement. As part of his role, he also contributes to drill/exercise/trainings development, delivery, and participation to various clients and stakeholders in the emergency response community.

Jason has more than 20 years of emergency response experience. Being a second-generation firefighter, he followed his father with beginning his career as a Volunteer Firefighter in 2004. Since that time Jason has held various roles within municipal fire departments, industrial fire departments, and marine salvage companies. Training/development has been his top priority in every role he has held. He believes this is the cornerstone of how to provide the best and safest response to our communities.

As a moderator, Jason will bring his dedication to responders' preparedness and safety to the forefront. His leadership, coordination, partnership, and experience will provide a level of insight that will generate great discussion to support the maritime and response community in preparedness.